

How to write a diary entry

Today's date

Before you start writing your entry, you write the date on the right hand side.

British: Day - Month - Year: 15 April 2022 or 15/4/22 or 15.4.22 or 15-4-22 (...)

American: Month - Day - Year: April 15, 2022 or 04/15/22 or 04.15.22 or 04-15-22 (...)

Salutation

One line underneath the date you write "Dear diary," on the left hand side.

Introduction

You write where you are at the moment (and what time of the day it is), f.i.:

It's Sunday evening and I'm sitting in my room.

You write how your day was in general, f.i.:

Today was such a great / terrible day! / I would like to tell you about my day / what happened at school.

Main Part

Here you give more details and explain why your day was great or terrible (in Simple Past!)

You use adjectives (f.i. excited, happy, sad,...) and adverbials of time (f.i. later, after that,...)

I got a heart shaped balloon for Valentine's and a bar of chocolate. The gift was from... In the afternoon...

I was so excited / happy because... / I felt so...

I fell down the stairs and now I have a sore arm. After that I had to go to the hospital where... Later I...

I was really upset because... / I felt as if...

You can also write about your plans or hopes for the next day (use the will-future or going to-future!), f.i.:

I hope that I will see him/her again tomorrow.

I hope tomorrow will be a better day and that my arm won't hurt so much.

Goodbye

Yours... / Bye... (your name / name of the person you wrote it for)
